America's Greatest Weekly

The Toledo Blade

Toledo, Ohio

The Best Known Newspaper in the United States

CIRCULATION 240,000
Popular in Every State

NO WHISKEY ADVERTISING.

The seventy sixth year of its existence finds the Toledo Blade more popular than at any period of its remarkable career. It is now read each week by more than a million of people. Its field is not circumscribed by state boundaries, but involves the length and breadth of the United States, giving it an unquestionable right of claiming to be the greatest national weekly newspaper in the country.

The Weekly Blade is distinctly a family newspaper. The one object of its publishers has always been to make it fit for the American home, for the fire-side, and of interest to every member of the family. To fulfill this purpose it is kept clean and wholesome. The news of the world is handled in a comprehensive manner and the various departments of The Blade are edited with painstaking care. The Household page is a delight to the women and children; current affairs are treated editorially without prejudice; the serial stories are selected with the idea of pleasing the greatest number of fiction lovers; the Question Bureau is a scrapbook of information; the Farmstead columns are conducted with the purpose of giving the patrons a medium for the exchange of ideas and information on farm topics. No department is neglected, but every feature is taken care of with the idea of making The Blade worth many times the price of subscription—one dollar a year.

How He Likes Fish.

Three-year-old Harold visited the beach for the first time on Saturday, and while there saw the minnows in the water, thought it over, and wisely remarked: "I don't like fish in the water. I like them in bread crumbs."

On Asking Questions.

In general society the asking of questions is cited as the commonest lapse of good breeding. One is aghast at the evidence of impertinent curiosity that parades under the guise of friendly interest. Interrogations even as to the amount of one's income, occupation, and not excluding one's age and general condition are legion and inexcusable.

Best in the World.

J. W. Hyatt, merchant of Warren, N. C., writes: "Please send enclosed order by mail. Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve is the best eye remedy in the world. 25 cents. m

What Wisdom Is.

Wisdom consists not in knowing many things; nor even in knowing them thoroughly; but in choosing and in following what conduces the most certainly to our lasting happiness and glory.
